

For immediate release

News Release from
Canadian Federation of University Women –
Cranbrook Club

Cranbrook's CFUW learn how to deter Sexual Predators and Financial Scams

Cranbrook's Constable Lisa Schlatter (right), and Kimberly's Sergeant Laurie Jalbert, graciously gave their time to the CFUW-Cranbrook Club and their guests at an interesting talk at the College of the Rockies Thursday, November 17th.

Not only did the audience learn how to protect themselves and loved ones from sexual predators using the internet to gain access to victims, they also learned of the many monetary scams being handled at that very moment in the East Kootenay region. Both officers went into detail of what to look for, how to research claims and what to do if anyone suspects they have been approached either by phone or email asking for funds, access to your credit card, and the like.

Constable Lisa Schlatter will be back to speak with the club and the community about Cyber Bullying, a huge problem all over the world including right here at home April 19th, 7pm, Room 250 at the College of the Rockies. Stay tuned for more information by visiting us at our website:

www.cfuw-cranbrook.com.

